

Apple Developer Account Form

A Dun & Bradstreet number is required by Apple to enroll in the Apple Developer Program.

If you do not have a Dun & Bradstreet number, please visit <http://www.dnb.com> to apply. D&B numbers take up to 30 business days to process. When enrolling, please make sure that your organization is listed as a legal entity. To verify this, business registration documents are required.

If you need to update your legal entity, you can do so online at iUpdate.dnb.com or by emailing appdeveloper@dnb.com or by calling 1.800.234.3867 x4. Updating any information associated with your D&B number can take up to 10 business days.

Information Required for Enrollment

Apple ID: _____

The Developer Account must be tied to an Apple ID. If you do not have an Apple ID, one can be created here <https://appleid.apple.com/account#!&page=create>

Dun & Bradstreet Number: _____

Legal Entity Name: _____

This must match D&B exactly. Be sure to include entity type, such as Inc., LLC, GmbH, etc.

Official Corporate Name: _____

This will be used in the App Store and CANNOT be changed once filed.

Official Address: _____

This must match the address that Dun & Bradstreet has on file.

Main Phone Number: _____

Corporate Website URL: _____

Verification Contact

Upon submission of the enrollment, Apple will contact this person to confirm that the person linked to the Apple ID is an employee of the organization and that they have authority to bind the organization to legal agreements with Apple.

Verification Contact Name: _____

Verification Contact Title: _____

Verification Contact Email: _____

Verification Contact Phone: _____

Enrollment Fee

Apple charges an annual fee of $99 to be enrolled in the Developer Program. This is paid directly to Apple.

Next Steps

Core-apps will need to be added to your Apple Developer Account and iTunes Connect Account as an admin. This will allow our developers to submit the app and maintain appropriate certificates. Please let your Sales Operations Manager know when you have paid the enrollment fee, and they will discuss next steps.

Signature: _____ Date: _____